Description:

This summer, STS is pleased to sponsor its fourth annual summer camp for kids. With a focus on collaboration and shared expression, participants will explore the world of drama through improvisational games, story-telling, and creative movement activities. Children will learn to harness their natural imaginative energy and craft it into engaging performance. Everyone takes an active role in creating their own props, costumes, and set, so be prepared for them to come home messy.

Weather permitting, we'll spend our lunch hour venturing over to the Parish Field Park for a relaxed, sociable time of food, conversation and play. Children bring their own lunch (no heatables), and are welcome to read, play games, or enjoy a run on the playground.

This year, we will be using folktales from around the world to shape our production, with specific attention to the idea of alternate endings, exploring the "What If?" The camp will culminate with an all-original performance on Friday evening at 7pm. The camp never fails to offer a unique mix of challenge, fun, and adventure for everyone, no matter what their level of experience.
